

Cowaselon Creek Drainage District Maintenance Project Request for Proposals – 2025

Project Description:

Project proposes to perform maintenance on approximately 3,200 linear feet of the Stroud Ditch located in the Town of Lenox in Madison County NY between Hardwood Island Road and North Main Street. (See Attached Map) Project will consist of removing woody debris that is choking the channel and seeding and mulching all bare areas upon completion. SWCD staff will be on site to evaluate ditch maintenance requirements. The woody debris will be hauled to a dump site 1.2 miles west of Hard Wood Island Road on Ditch Bank Road.

Scope of Work:

Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) is seeking bids to complete the following tasks for this project:

- 1 – Removal of existing woody debris from the ditches with the use of excavators. Material will be disposed of offsite unless otherwise noted by the SWCD. See attached map
- 2 – Seeding and mulching of all disturbed areas upon completion of the project.
- 3 – Any and all additional work must be approved by SWCD prior to commencing.
- 4 - Work needs to be completed by mid December 2025

INSURANCE

Selected contractor will be required to show proof of minimum insurance coverages including but not limited to Workmen's Compensation Insurance and $1,000,000 in General Liability insurance.

Sealed bids will be accepted until November 3rd, 2025 at 8:25 AM to :

Madison County SWCD

6503 Wes Road

Hamilton, NY 13346

Special notes:

Madison County SWCD will be on site daily during construction to ensure the success of the project and complete survey and layout as needed. To arrange site showings please contact Madison County SWCD @ 315-824-9849 ext 5.

This project is a public works project and New York State prevailing wage rules apply.

Sealed Bids will be opened at the SWCD offices in Hamilton at 8:30 AM November 3, 2025

